Yet again I am objecting to the proposed planning due to the fact that one of the properties will directly overlook my property. I note that someone has said in their approval of the application that noise/disruption during the day will be minimal but I can assure that said person that noise/disruption will not be minimal. On the contrary not only will building work infringe on the tranquility and quiet that I and my family enjoy at the back of our garden so as to escape the noise of heavy traffic at the front but after the said properties have been built will have to listen to more traffic noise the new properties will bring And also the noise of more people using their gardens and accessing their homes. These are large family homes and not small retirement residences. London Hill has a charm and character already with an eclectic mix of different properties and does not need to be built on any more. No doubt this planning application will be approved eventually because people will tire of objecting and Rayleigh will just keep getting built on and on. I do hope someone at the Council has the courage to uphold the objections! Yours faithfully,
