Existing Sketch Perspective Side View

Note:

Images taken from sketch model(s), at the same angle to show context and massing also to highlight the fact that the proposal would provide an improved aesthetic within its surroundings.

Although the structure itself is slightly higher than the existing building, the removal of the unsightly aerials & the up-dated palette of materials that have been proposed, also ensures that you are greeted by a tastefully designed building on the approach from Rayleigh into the heart of Hockley. A huge improvement on the dilapidated 'Brutal' elevation that currently welcomes you.
