Dear Sir or madam

To whom it concerns regarding a burger Van site location Land Fronting 49 purdeys way industrial estate, I am objecting For any planning permission For 49 purdeys way . I been informed that there are number of properties on purdeys way which benefit From a communal parking area, Which remains within your ownership. Each unit has an allocated parking space which he is able To use. Until end of March snack shack was parked upon the parking space belonging to one of the units. At the Far end of purdeys way. Which did not cause any difficulty With Congestion. Particularly in region of the T Junction Joining purdeys way. Since the end of march this year The tenant who occupied the unit with the benefit of the parking space . has vacated . Such that the landlord of the unit has asked the snack shack to move. To that end .the Snack shack has now moved to alternative position and trades From an area oposite [REDACTED] A number of business in the area have high Volumes of traffic. As a result of the nature of their business in itself. Particularly those in business which operate From in the region of present location of the snack shack. Until now however, This has not been difficult, and has not caused any congestion as a result of nature of traffic and frequency of which that attends the relevant business. But however because of movement of snack shack to a alternative location. Severe Congestion is now occurring at the T Junction. Such that T Junction is becoming a danger to those who utilize it. Specifically the snack shack has customers. The majority of which drove large goods vehicles heavy goods vehicles and other plant such as mixer lorries. These vehicles are bulky in size and cause severe congestion when parked. particularly however there is zero visibility through such vehicles when they are parked. And where their location is near to the T Junction. This is causing significant disruption not only for the use of businesses in the area. But also to individuals using pavements generally. In its previous location the vehicles stopping to utilise the snack shack did not cause any difficulty with congestion as they were away from the main area of business. And therefore did not impact upon the traffic passing and re passing from the businesses itself. In addition, as they were not near any road junction, their impact on visibility was low, where pavements way is a relatively straight road. Following the movement of snack shack. this restriction Become severe. Such that visibility is almost zero. And there is likely to be an accident at some stage.

The presence of vehicles is also impacting the local businesses.

A planning permission has been granted Only for the use of snack-shack at its previous location. I query as to whether planning permission can continue into present location particularly in light of difficulties which are being cause in terms of flow of traffic. I therefore requested to review the planning permission has been provided to snack-shack. And to consider whether they are now in breach of planning permission granted by having moved location. I strongly object to any planning permission for 1+9 purdey's way

Thank you
